"THERE ARE OTHER PLAYS BUT NONE SO POPULAR AS 'MUTT & JEFF'"

This year that best of all roaring musical farce spectacles, "Mutt & Jeff's Dream" comes to the Warfield with everything rearranged, sparkling and rejuvenated. Mr. Hill has replaced everything heretofore used with entirely up-to-date material and the consequence is a brand new and thoroughly finished farce comedy, spectacular review of the latest fads and funny things of the day. "Mutt & Jeff" has long since earned the top-notch positions among extravagant farces, and the idea of remodeling the scenic environment and reconstructing the piece generally has been an annual occurrence, but this season an extra effort has been made in the way of renewing the lines, situations and a decidedly refreshing atmosphere permeates the entire performance. A brilliant and prettily costumed chorus of youthful maidens assist in the attractively arranged ensembles and the modern popular music leaves nothing to be decided in a musical way. The specialties are the best that ever appeared in any musical farce comedy. A wealth of money has been expended this season to costume it beyond the fondest dreams of the indulgent public. "Mutt & Jeff" will be at the Warfield Theatre Tuesday.

SECRET CRAFT SYSTEM IN VITAGRAPH PICTURE

One of the coldbloodedly clever ways in which politicians obtain bribe and graft's picture, "A Fighting Colleen." This production presenting Bessie Love as star, will be seen at the Dixie theatre on Wednesday. The bribe expedient is that of the mayor in the story extorting graft from real estate contractors for failing to condemn certain tenement structures. It is one of the grippingly interesting elements of the web of a love story.

Lewis J. Selznick present Constance Talmadge in "Who Cares?" at the Dixie Theatre Monday. "Who Cares?" is the story of Joan who, having been forced by her grandparents to restrain the buoyancy of youth, marries Martin Grey out of pique, and then proceeds to ride on the merry-go-round of life at its maddest whirl.
